Overview of First Things First

On November 7, 2006, Arizonans made an historic decision on behalf of our state's youngest citizens. By majority vote, they made a commitment to all Arizona children 5 and younger, that children would have the tools they need to arrive at school healthy and ready to succeed. The voters backed that promise with an 80-cent per pack increase on tobacco products to provide dedicated and sustainable funding for early childhood services for our youngest children. The initiative created the statewide First Things First board and the 31 regional partnership councils that share the responsibility of ensuring that these early childhood funds are spent on strategies that will result in improved education and health outcomes for kids 5 and younger.

First Things First is designed to meet the diverse needs of Arizona communities. The regional councils are comprised of community volunteers, with each member representing a specific segment of the community that has a role in ensuring that Arizona's children grow up to be ready for school, set for life: parents, leaders of faith communities, tribal representatives, educators, health professionals, business leaders, and philanthropists.

First Things First Strategic Direction

FTF's commitment to young children means more than simply funding programs and services. It means having a shared vision about what being prepared for kindergarten actually means. First Things First specifies that programs and services funded by the FTF Board and Regional Partnership Councils are to address one or more of the following Goal Areas as defined by the statute:

- Improve the quality of early childhood development and health programs.
- Increase the access to quality early childhood development and health programs.
- Increase access to preventive health care and health screenings for children through age five.
- Offer parent and family support and education concerning early childhood development and literacy.
- Provide professional development and training for early childhood development and health providers.
- Increase coordination of early childhood development and health programs and provide public information about the importance of early childhood development and health.

The FTF Board established a strategic framework with a set of school readiness indicators that provide a comprehensive composite measure to show whether young children are ready for success as they prepare to enter kindergarten. The strategies funded by FTF work collectively to develop a comprehensive system across the state and regionally to address the school readiness indicators. The FTF Board and Regional Partnership Councils determine the priorities and strategies to be funded across the state and throughout the regions assessing the challenges and building on the resources and assets in place.

School Readiness Indicators

1. #/% children demonstrating school readiness at kindergarten entry in the development domains of social-emotional, language and literacy, cognitive, and motor and physical
2. #/% of children enrolled in an early care and education program with a Quality First rating of 3-5 stars
3. #/% of children with special needs enrolled in an inclusive early care and education program with a Quality First rating of 3-5 stars
4. #/% of families that spend no more than 10% of the regional median family income on quality care and education with a Quality First rating of 3-5 stars
5. % of children with newly identified developmental delays during the kindergarten year
6. # of children entering kindergarten exiting preschool special education to regular education
7. #/% of children ages 2-5 at a healthy weight (Body Mass Index-BMI)
8. #/% of children receiving timely well child visits
9. #/% of children age 5 with untreated tooth decay
10. % of families who report they are competent and confident about their ability to support their child's safety, health and well being

What is the Funding Source?

First Things First provides for distribution of funding through both statewide and regional grants. Statewide programs are considered those implemented across regional boundaries and are designed to benefit Arizona's children as a whole. Regional funding is based on the approval of the Regional Partnership Council funding plans submitted to the FTF Board each year.

This Request for Grant Application (RFGA) is specifically dedicated to funding regional programs. The Regional Partnership Council that is involved in the release of this RFGA is the North Pima Regional Partnership Council.

Who is Eligible to Apply for this Funding Opportunity?

First Things First awards grants to:

- Non-profit 501 (c) (3) organizations providing services in Arizona (both secular and faith-based)
- Units of Arizona government (local, county and state entities as well as schools and school districts)
- Federally recognized Tribal governments or entities providing services within Arizona
- Arizona institutions of higher learning (colleges and universities)
- Private organizations providing services in Arizona

All potential Applicants must demonstrate organizational, fiscal and programmatic capacity to meet the requirements described in the scope of work listed in this RFGA.

What is the Total Funding Amount Available in this Request for Grant Application?

This is an eleven (11) month contract for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2011 with an option for renewal for two (2), additional twelve (12) month periods should the North Pima Regional Council allocate additional funding to this strategy. Total funds available are approximately $39,600 for the first funding period. First Things First reserves the right not to award the entire amount of available funds or to award an amount that is greater than the posted available funds. Renewal will be contingent upon satisfactory contract performance, evaluation and availability of funds. It is expected that one award will be made.

Scope of Work: What Will This Grant Fund and How Will It Make a Difference for Children?

Statement of need

The North Pima Regional Council recognizes that the goals of optimally serving children and families requires a high level of coordination and collaboration with both public and private agencies and organizations within the Region. Collaborative partnerships enhance and strengthen the early childhood system of care and services, ease families' access to services, and maximize and leverage the community resources available to families with children birth through age five. Facilitating and fostering partnerships and coordination of resources among public and private providers ensures a common understanding of the needs of families and shares ownership in ensuring access and high quality to services for all children.

Over the previous three fiscal years, North Pima Regional Partnership Council has invested in service coordination for families and children. This strategy has helped many families find specific services to meet their needs and assisted families in accessing these services. Through this mechanism, the regional council recognized that a coordination and collaboration strategy that fosters community partnerships and linkages would also increase families' utilization of services. Service agencies that work together are often easier to access and are implemented in a manner that is more responsive to the needs of the families. Cross-system efforts may also result in greater capacity to deliver services because organizations are working together to identify and address gaps in service, which provides for more targeted work to build and grow a system of service supports for families in the North Pima Region. In order to work toward this goal, the regional council intends to increase communication between community organizations in order to decrease duplication of services, spread awareness of available services, and expand learning opportunities for early care and education professionals to increase their capacity to care for young children in high quality environments.

Description of strategy including Standards of Practice

The proposed strategy will focus on increasing interagency coordination and collaboration and the capacity of the early childhood system to serve the families and children in the North Pima Region through the following activities and processes:

- Identify FTF contracted service providers and other human services organizations and agencies that serve families and children within the Region.
- Develop a plan and establish a mechanism for convening partners on a regular basis (at least once monthly) for the purpose of joint planning to identify and address coordination of services and increase community capacity to deliver services to families and children.
- Establish protocols and guidelines for partnerships to meet, plan, implement plans, and communicate as partners.
- Establish coordination/collaboration goals for the region.
- Foster interagency planning and agreements addressing information exchange and data sharing, staff training, co-location of services and joint applications for public and private grants to support service delivery.
- Continuously recruit partner agencies and organizations that may provide services for families and children.

The North Pima Regional Partnership Council is seeking a successful Applicant that will leverage other funding or identify additional funding resources to support up to 1 FTE personnel to accomplish this scope of work.

As a condition of this grant award, First Things First North Pima Region staff will meet with the successful Applicant to review the coordination/collaboration intent of the Regional Council. First Things First Regional staff also requests review of the successful Applicants' recruitment and selection processes for the staff to implement the coordination strategies outlined in this Request for Grant Application.

Attachment E and F Instructions

How to Complete the Line Item Budget and Budget Narrative

Complete an 11-month budget for the period August 1, 2012 through June 30, 2013 using the template provided in Attachment E. Please make sure you include a budget narrative as Attachment F.

Please keep in mind items described in a line item budget and in more detail in the budget narrative should describe how the costs were determined and the public purpose for the cost related successfully implementing the project. Please assure that all requested funds follow these guidelines:

- Be necessary and reasonable for proper and efficient performance and administration of First Things First funds.
- Be authorized or not prohibited under State or local laws or regulations.
- Be consistent with policies, regulations, and procedures that apply uniformly to all costs charged and expended by the agency – consistent treatment of costs.
 - For example – a cost may not be assigned to another grant award as an indirect cost if any other cost incurred for the same purposes in like circumstances has been allocated to the First Things First award as a direct cost.
 - For example – a cost for a certain type of expense is charged one rate to another source of funding and a different rate to First Things First - this would not be consistent treatment of costs.
- Be determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.
- Be adequately documented.
- All travel related costs for these trainings and meetings should be included in the Applicant's budget and calculated using the State of Arizona travel rate limitations for mileage, per diem and lodging as described on the budget narrative worksheet. For more information about the state requirements, visit <http://www.gao.az.gov/travel/>.
- Requests for line item modifications, which do not change the total program funding, shall be requested in writing and shall only be made following receipt of written authorization from First Things First.

Please note the line items included in the budget template represent the types of costs possible for a line item budget these line items may or may not be applicable or appropriate for your Application. Your budget line items requested must fit within one of the categories listed. However, it is expected that you would not need to utilize all of the sample line items.

Attachment E – Line Item Budget

While you must use this format, you may reproduce it with Word Processing or Spreadsheet software. Limit your budget line items to the following categories: Personnel, Fringe Benefits, Professional Services, Travel, Pass-Through (i.e. Sub grants), Other Operating Expenses and Administrative/Indirect Costs.

Attachment F – Budget Narrative

The purpose of the budget narrative is to provide more clarity and detail on the various budget line items. The budget narrative should explain the criteria used to compute the budget figures on the budget form. Please verify that the narrative and budget form correspond and the calculations and totals are accurate.

Please include one narrative that matches the 11-month line item budget categories and subcategories.

Personnel Services: Include information such as position title(s), name of employee (if known), salary, time to be spent on this program (hours or %), number of months assigned to this program, etc. Explain how the salary rate for each position was determined. If salaries are expected to increase during the project year, indicate the percentage increases for each position and justify the percent of the salary increase. Also, be sure to include the scheduled salary increases on the Budget Form.

Employee Related Expenses: Include a benefit percentage and what expenses make up employee benefit costs. Indicate any special rates for part-time employees, if applicable. Explain how the benefits for each position were determined. If using a fringe benefit rate, explain how this percentage is justified or approved by your agency.

Professional and Outside Services: If professional consultants/services costs are proposed in the budget, define how the costs for these services were determined and the justification for the services related to the project. Explain how all contracts will be procured.

Travel: Separate travel that is in state and out-of-state. Include a detailed breakdown of hotel, transportation, meal costs, etc. Indicate the location(s) of travel, the justification for travel, how many employees will attend and how the estimates have been determined. Explain the relationship of each cost item to the project (e.g., if training or training expenses are requested, explain the topic of the training and its relationship to the project). Applicants must use the State of Arizona Travel Policy on rates limitations for mileage, lodging, and meals (<http://www.gao.az.gov/travel/>) for both in state and out-of-state travel.

Aid to Organizations or Individuals: In the event that this application represents collaboration and the contract will be utilizing other sub grantees or subcontractors to perform various components of the program, include a list of sub grantees, programmatic work each sub grantee will perform, and how costs for each sub grantee are determined.

Other Operating Expenses: Explain each item to be purchased, how the costs were determined and justify the need for the items. All purchases should be made through competitive bid or using established purchasing procedures. All items should be categorized in the following categories: Telephones / Communications Services, Internet Access, General Office Supplies, Food, Rent/Occupancy, Evaluation (non-contracted and non-personnel expenses), Utilities, Furniture, Postage, Software (including IT supplies), Dues/Subscriptions, Advertising, Printing/Copying, Equipment Maintenance, Professional Development/Staff Training, Conference Workshops/ Training Fees for Staff, Insurance, Program Materials, Program Supplies, Scholarships, and Program Incentives

Capital Equipment: For items that are tangible, non-expendable, and movable having a useful life of more than one year and a value of $5,000 or greater, explain each item to be purchased, how the costs were determined and justify the need for the items based on the scope of work and the benefit to the project. All purchases should be made through competitive bid or using established purchasing procedures.

Non-Capital Equipment: For items with a unit cost less than $5,000 and an initial estimated useful life beyond a single year, explain each item to be purchased, how the costs were determined and justify the need for the items. All purchases should be made through competitive bid or using established purchasing procedures. For example, items such as computers, printers, projectors, etc. each with a unit cost less than $5,000.

Administrative/Indirect Costs: Administrative costs are general or centralized expenses of overall administration of an organization that receives grant funds and does not include particular program costs. For organizations that have an established federally approved indirect cost rate for Federal awards, indirect costs mean those costs that are included in the organization's indirect cost rate. Such costs are generally identified with the organization's overall operation and are further described in 2 CFR 220, 2 CFR 225, and 2 CFR 230.

Applicants must list either Option A or Option B and provide proper justification for expenses included:

- ☐ Option A - Administrative Costs: with proper justification, sub grantees may include an allocation for administrative costs for up to 10% of the total direct costs requested of the grant request. Administrative costs may include allocable direct charges for: costs of financial, accounting, auditing, contracting or general legal services; costs of internal evaluation, including overall organization's management improvement costs; and costs of general liability insurance that protects the organization(s) responsible for operating a project, other than insurance costs solely attributable to the project. Administrative costs may also include that portion of salaries and benefits of the project's director and other administrative staff not attributable to the time spent in support of a specific project.

OR

- ☐ Option B - Federally Approved Indirect Costs: If your organization has a federally approved indirect cost rate agreement in place, grantees may include an allocation for indirect costs for up to 10% of the direct costs. Applicants must provide a copy of their federally approved indirect cost rate agreement.

Indirect costs are costs of an organization that are not readily assignable to a particular project, but are necessary to the operation of the organization and the performance of the project. The cost of operating and maintaining facilities, depreciation, and administrative salaries are examples of the types of costs that are usually treated as indirect.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

Ready for School. Set for Life.

COORDINATION STANDARD OF PRACTICE- Community Partnerships

In March 2008, the Early Childhood Development and Health Board defined the strategic direction of First Things First with the adoption of the Strategic Plan Roadmap. Within this comprehensive document, Coordination is identified as a one of six Goal Areas that will be accomplished by First Things First in order to build the Arizona early childhood system.

Specifically, to accomplish the Coordination goal, First Things First is directed to foster cross-system collaboration efforts among local, state, federal and tribal organizations to improve the coordination and integration of Arizona programs, services and resources for young children and their families.

It is generally believed that by participating in cross-system efforts, organizations will begin to look at how they can change the way they work together so that services are delivered to children and families in new, more effective and efficient ways. Service agencies that work together are often easier to access and are implemented in a manner that is more responsive to the needs of the families. Cross-system efforts may also result in greater capacity to deliver services because organizations are working together to identify and address gaps in service. Therefore, by supporting a variety of cross-system efforts, First Things First will be instrumental in creating a high quality, interconnected, and comprehensive delivery system that is timely, culturally responsive, family driven, community based, and directed toward enhancing a child's overall development.

COORDINATION STANDARDS

Cross-system efforts may include a wide variety of activities. However, the desired outcome of all cross-system efforts is to support organizations to develop relationships that allow them to achieve results they would not likely have achieved alone. A number of terms can be used to label organizations that work together toward mutually beneficial goals. Among these terms are: alliances, coalitions, collaborations, cooperatives, networks and partnerships.

While all cross-system efforts involve two or more organizations working together for a common purpose, these efforts operate at varying levels of intensity. Typically, formal collaboration is viewed as most intensive, requiring the greatest amount of work, commitment and risk. It also is the level at which true system changes are most likely to occur. The intent of coordination strategies developed by First Things First is to support participants in achieving increasingly intensive levels of coordination.

Networking	Cooperation	Coordination	Collaboration

lower intensity  higher intensity

Networking: Activities that result in bringing individuals or organizations together for relationship building and information sharing. Networking results in an increased understanding of the current system of services. There is no effort directed at changing the existing system. There is no risk associated with networking.

Cooperation: Characterized by short-term, informal relationships that exist without a clearly defined mission, structure, or planning effort. Cooperative partners share information only about the subject at hand. Each organization retains authority and keeps resources separate. There is very little risk associated with cooperation.

Coordination: Involves more formal relationships in response to an established mission. Coordination involves some planning and division of roles and opens communication channels between organizations. Authority rests with individual organizations, however, risk increases. Resources are made available to participants and rewards are shared.

Collaboration: Collaboration is characterized by a more durable and pervasive relationship. Participants bring separate organizations into a new structure, often with a formal commitment to a common mission. The collaborative structure determines authority and leadership roles. Risk is greater. Partners pool or jointly secure resources, and share the results and rewards.

To simplify, the term coordination will be used throughout this document to describe the variety of cross-system efforts, from networking through collaboration, that lead to accomplishment of the First Things First Coordination goal. When the word collaboration is used, it specifically refers to the highest level of coordination efforts, as described above.

To foster increased community capacity in order to provide high quality early childhood services that work together across First Things First regions and at a statewide level, First Things First Regional Partnership Councils will foster and facilitate coordination (i.e. cross-system) activities within their region. These activities may include: conducting regional needs assessments; convening regional and cross-regional meetings of First Things First grantees and other service providers; participation in interagency coordinating councils; engaging service providers to conduct strategic planning; and supporting communications and information exchange networks. These activities may be provided by Regional Partnership Councils and Regional Office staff directly or through grant agreements.

First Things First coordination strategies may occur at any level, from networking to collaboration. One approach to coordination, which is most effective in communities with little history of working together or where trust is lacking, is to first bring service providers together for networking. As successes occur, the group is able to transition to more intensive levels of working together.

COORDINATION COMPONENTS

In developing coordination strategies, Regional Partnership Councils and grantees should be cognizant of the components that lead to successful collaboration. Creating and maintaining collaborative efforts is a difficult process. In fact, poorly managed community coordination and collaboration activities can damage relationships and result in distrust and territorialism.

Research has identified six broad categories that influence the success of collaborations (Mattessich, et al, 2001). They are:

1. Environment: the extent to which the community has a history of collaboration and whether the community views collaboration as a legitimate effort.
2. Membership Characteristics: the degree to which there is mutual respect and trust among members.
3. Process and Structure: the presence of clearly understood roles, rights and responsibilities of members that lead to a feeling of ownership that collaboration members feel about the work.
4. Communication: the existence of fully developed and utilized lines of communications resulting in high interaction between individuals.
5. Purpose: having a shared vision, with clearly articulated goals and strategies, that is affirmed by each member. The mission, purpose and delivery system of the collaborative is distinctive from those of participating organizations.
6. Resources: the extent to which the collaboration has sufficient financial, human and in-kind resources to achieve its goals.

COORDINATION STRATEGIES

Specific activities can foster the development of increasingly intensive levels of coordination. In order to be successful, coordination strategies should consider incorporating a variety of these activities.

READINESS ASSESSMENT

Before beginning a coordination effort, an assessment of the community's readiness may occur. Various tools can be used to assess readiness to coordinate. Among the items evaluated in a readiness assessment are: existence of a shared vision; inclusion of key organizational and individual stakeholders; and leadership capacity. Having a clear understanding of the factors that impact successful coordination will help direct initial efforts. In fact, coordination strategies may also include capacity building that increases the readiness of individuals, organizations and communities to engage in meaningful cross-system efforts.

Formal collaboration should result in actions that change and improve services. Groups move through stages of development to arrive at effective collaboration.

COORDINATION OUTCOMES

Coordination efforts funded by First Things First should build on community strengths. It is recommended that coordination strategies incorporate a readiness assessment. Further, it is important that all coordination efforts include the use of outcome measures to demonstrate effectiveness and to increase accountability.

Examples of possible outcomes (and measures) that can occur as a result of coordination efforts are:

1. Minutes and attendance records of meetings held;
2. Development of partnership and governance agreements;
3. Development of a strategic plan, with action steps that result in systems change;
4. Asset mapping, gap analysis, and identification of actions to address gaps;
5. Identification of system improvement measures to be implemented, such as implementing coordinated outreach for programs of a similar type (e.g. home visitation, parent education) to help ensure that families are referred to the service that best meets their needs or developing an information exchange system to identify families served by more than one service organization to identify opportunities to coordinate and reduce duplication;
6. Increased satisfaction of families served through coordinated efforts.

Examples of possible data that can be used to demonstrate the effectiveness of cross-system efforts are:

1. Community score cards or other community-wide indicators of wellbeing that can be monitored publically and annually, including data which can be disaggregated by ethnicity and geography;
2. Budget analyses that break out all spending for children, youth, or some other identified purpose in ways that are not customarily tracked by budget offices;
3. Self-assessment tools that allow a collaborative to gauge its progress against a framework for reviewing the systems outcomes of a collaborative.
4. Client surveys to gauge changes in referral networks, ease of service access, and satisfaction with services received.

Standards and specific considerations for these strategy categories can be found on the following page.

First Things First - Arizona Early Childhood Development and Health Board Data Security Guidelines and Requirements for Collaborators

BACKGROUND:

The purpose of First Things First is to aid in the creation of a system that offers opportunities and supports for families and communities in the development of all children so they can grow up healthy and ready to succeed. Our work is accountable and transparent to decision-makers and the citizens of Arizona. Collaboration and direct funding of grantees to undertake work on behalf of the children and families of Arizona is fundamental to the purpose and mission of FTF. Regular submission of data related to funded work is an important part of ensuring accountability and maximum positive impact for young children.

Data Security Guidelines for Data Submission to FTF

The Arizona Early Childhood Development and Health Board (First Thing First - FTF) will ensure that resources allocated have maximum impact for the benefit of children and families. To ensure this accountability, FTF will establish data reporting requirements for all state and regional grantees. All funded providers will regularly submit programmatic and financial reports as identified in the FTF reporting requirements.

FTF data submissions are classified in one of three levels:

- Public data
- Limited distribution data
- Confidential data

The majority of FTF reporting submissions are completed through the FTF Partner and Grants Management System (PGMS). Subsequent to the award of a FTF contract, the grantee will receive general training on login and navigation within the PGMS system. With this login the grantee will be able to manage their contract information. An additional training on strategy-specific data submission requirements will also be conducted. During that training the grantee will be informed on submission of data reporting requirements through PGMS. All data submitted through PGMS is public data or limited distribution data. Because PGMS is located in a secure extranet environment, grantees using PGMS for data submission are not required to undertake additional security measures related to their data submission above those identified in the general and data submission orientations (password and login security, guidelines for upload of narrative and other reports).

A small group of grantees submit data requirements, through agreement between the grantee and FTF, directly through the FTF extranet, rather than a PGMS web-based entry form. These data are likely to contain limited distribution data and must follow the following protocols. Data structure agreement, Login, ftp, revision request. Grantees that submit data through the FTF extranet must ensure that limited distribution data may not be intercepted or viewed at any time by parties other than the grantee and FTF and that throughout the reporting and submission process the data are secured.

Any grantee submitting data identified as confidential must file a formal data security policy with FTF. Confidential data will not be a part of standard data submission requirements. Grantee general orientation and data reporting orientation will identify data requirements as public data, limited distribution data, and/or confidential data.

Data Security Guidelines for Grantee Maintenance of Data

In order to submit data to FTF in fulfillment of reporting requirements, grantees must keep all data collected for their program(s) within their system (database) or hardcopies. While FTF data submissions are generally aggregated and contain no individually identifying information, grantee data is likely to contain highly sensitive information on individuals, their education and their health. These guidelines and requirements are for the maintenance of those data.

All grantees must have a data security policy in force, which identifies how the organization ensures that data is protected in all its forms, during all phases of its life cycle, from inappropriate access, use, modification, disclosure, or destruction.

All grantees subject to HIPAA, FERPA, GITA, or other data regulation, are required to submit and maintain those approvals for all data. If HIPAA, FERPA or other data regulation requires that participating individuals give consent to data collection on their person and if in the course of regular data submissions to FTF such data will be provided to FTF, submission of personal data to FTF must be reflected in all data regulation documents.
